The Coalition of Schools Educating Boys of Color (COSEBOC) mission is to connect, inspire, support, and strengthen school leaders dedicated to the social, emotional, and academic development of boys and young men of color.

FALL AND WINTER SERIES | EQUITY: FRONT, CENTER, AND FULFILLED

COSEBOC VIRTUAL EVENTS
Synopsis of Virtual GOL Sessions April 2020 - February 2021

EVENT 6:
Thursday, November 12, 2020
Dr. Angela M. Ward’s “It’s time to use your influence for the liberation of school spaces” was laser-sharp in her interactive session. Dr. Ward’s community-focused framework focused on the personal and collective decision making provided a road map to #AntiracistEd. How can adults use their personal sphere of influence to create liberating school spaces for students of color?

EVENT 7:
Thursday, December 10, 2020
Sharif El-Mekki’s Liberating Education takes us into a foundational analysis of what education should look like. Brother Sharif shares the necessity of recruiting, training, hiring, and retaining quality educators that reflect the cultural backgrounds and share common socio-political interests of the students they serve. The end goal is to expose high school and college students to the teaching profession to fuel a pipeline of Black educators.

EVENT 8:
Thursday, January 14, 2021
Dr. Chris Emdin will lead a presentation that allows us to imagine, embrace, and channel our ancestral genius. He is the creator of the #HipHopEd social media movement and a dynamic public speaker on several topics that include hip-hop education, STEM education, politics, race, class, diversity, and youth empowerment. Dr. Emdin reminds us that our work is to activate our imagination and carve a path towards liberation.

EVENT 9:
Thursday, February 11, 2021
Eagle Academy and Kingmakers of Oakland follow the African Proverb that states the children shall lead. Two of the most impactful and pioneering organizations from New York/New Jersey to Oakland California center young people and remove any doubt of the good hands our futures are in. In this cross, coastal collaboration, young people stand in the center and give direction to the path we should embark on and the power we set forth.
